Future Hotel White by HORECA

by Stefan, posted in Design And Concept, on January 24th, 2011

Well -Tech is a design studio founded in Milan by Arch. Chiara Cantono. They email us the latest project called Future Hotel White by HORECA. Probably you ask why it's called "white", well white is the acronym for 5 words: Wellness – Hospitality – Innovation – Technology – Ecology.

What new does Future Hotel White have to offer to people who are willing to come to HORECA 2011 but who also visited last HORECA show?

Operators who have visited last Future Hotel, will have the chance to relive the atmosphere of innovation and design typical of the WT projects, and see the realization of some interesting projects underway in the greek territory. A team of WT architects will be at disposition in the FH White stand to meeting the operators interested to build or renew their structures. The WT Team will be glad to give structural solutions, innovating furnitures and off course the newest materials and technologies review. {more at well-tech}
